Feedback Tool

At the end of each course, we survey students on several aspects of the course, including course content, course work, faculty, and job applicability.

Faculty members and course managers have full access to the results for their courses. Both faculty and course managers review results and work to address shortfalls.

After 60 days, we e-mail each student a follow-up survey. After six months, we follow up with randomly selected managers of our students to better determine organizational impact.

Performance Support

Consulting
Targeted Training
Rapid-Deployment Training

Our performance-support services are provided to DoD and civilian agencies to help them resolve individual project and agency-level acquisition problems. We also provide immediate training on new policy initiatives and training targeted at an organization's unique needs.

Feedback Tool

At the end of each consulting effort, the customer is asked to provide feedback.

Following each targeted training event, students respond to an online course survey similar to the one used for certification courses.

DAU reviews the results for both consulting and targeted training efforts and incorporates improvements.

Continuous Learning

Continuous Learning Modules

The Defense Acquisition Workforce is required to take 80 hours of continuous learning every two years. To help meet that need, DAU offers a wide variety of continuous learning modules. We are constantly adding modules to keep the workforce abreast of changes in policy.

Feedback Tool

At the end of each DAU-developed continuous learning module is a course feedback survey. Students must complete the survey before they receive their certificate of completion.

Course owners review the survey results for their courses and incorporate improvements.

Non-course comments or site-specific technical questions about the Continuous Learning Center can be e-mailed to dauhelp@dau.mil.
