

AT&L Performance Learning Model

The centerpiece of the DAU experience is the AT&L Performance Learning Model (PLM). This learning and development architecture provides each member of the Defense Acquisition Workforce with more control over his or her career-long learning opportunities.

The PLM extends the learning experience from traditional classroom instruction to a variety of learning solutions that are available anytime, anywhere. The Defense Acquisition Workforce can experience:

Training through Web-enabled and classroom training with case-based instruction.

Continuous Learning with self-paced, relevant training modules to improve job performance.

Performance Support with rapidly delivered business solutions offered to students and their organizations after the classroom experience.

Knowledge Sharing through DAU's online Web sites—the AT&L Knowledge Sharing System and the Acquisition Community Connection—where they connect with experts, peers, and acquisition resources.

Performance Support

Improving acquisition performance where and when you need it.

Performance Support

One of the key components of our Acquisition, Technology and Logistics (AT&L) Performance Learning Model is Performance Support. This real-time support is designed to rapidly deliver program, technical, and business solutions to the Defense Acquisition Workforce. Performance Support includes the following three components:

Consulting

DAU provides over 150 consulting efforts each year, focusing on specific problems the Defense Acquisition Workforce faces in their organizations.

Targeted Training

DAU has nearly 60 targeted training courses available. We can also create a unique course to fit your needs and requirements.
